

New Steel Company May Follow Kaiser Break

Others Remain Adamant

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Another of the strike-bound major steel companies may follow the lead of the Kaiser Steel Corp. today in breaking with the industry stand against "inflationary" wage increases.

Kaiser started individual negotiations in Washington with the United Steelworkers Union following an announcement Sunday night that it would negotiate separately from the other 11 big steel company members of the industry coordinating committee involved in the 104-day strike.

KAISER DID NOT announce whether any terms had been agreed upon with the union, but the industry committee which it deserted said a settlement such as Kaiser contemplated would cost the corporation 10 cents per man hour for the first year of a three year contract.

The committee said for other companies, the same package would cost 17 cents per man hour, which "clearly represents an inflationary agreement."

THE OTHER companies said they found terms of the Kaiser proposal "unacceptable."

However, an industry source told United Press International that one of the other companies composing the industry coordinating committee may also accept an agreement on the same terms as Kaiser. The industry source refused to identify the firm.

THE HOLD-OUT companies said the Kaiser move to settle "was dictated by circumstances peculiar to the Kaiser interest which also are engaged in the aluminum industry, and which therefore deal with the Steelworkers as representatives of their employees in both industries."

In Washington, Edgar F. Kaiser, board chairman of Kaiser Steel, said:

"We believe the decision to bargain separately with the union is the only responsible step we can take in the face of the mounting national emergency caused by the 104-day strike."

"THIS DECISION came after our continued efforts with the 11 companies to reach an industry-wide settlement. It was clearly understood by both parties that we were working for such a settlement. We reported fully to both the union and the industry at all times."

"Some time ago we advised the industry that it would be necessary for Kaiser Steel to bargain separately if the industry did not reach a settlement with the union in the near future."

Three Motorists Miraculously Escape Serious Injury as Truck, Cars Collide

THEY ALL WALKED AWAY from this three-cornered crash with less than serious injuries, although the wreckage indicates that the three motorists involved should have suffered critical injuries, police said. According to police, it all happened when the first auto in the right

Accident Occurred At Intersection Of El Cielo, Ramon

Three motorists miraculously escaped serious injury today when two autos and a pickup truck crashed in a chain reaction collision at El Cielo and East Ramon Roads early this morning.

Injured were Charles Mills, 43, of 63-974 San Raphael Road, Dolores Esqueda, 45, of 31-664 La Paloma, and Charles C. Montgomery Jr., 54, of Burbank.

ALL THREE WERE treated at Desert Hospital for numerous cuts and bruises. Montgomery had a fractured knee cap and cut mouth and Mills also had fractured ribs.

Police Sgt. Robert Flavin said the crash occurred when Mrs. Esqueda's northbound auto pulled onto Ramon and clipped the side of the eastbound truck, driven by Mills.

The truck spun clockwise across the center of the street and was slammed in the side by a westbound auto driven by Montgomery, Flavin said.

THE TERRIFIC impact telescoped the front ends of both autos and scattered wreckage across the intersection and hundreds of squares of floor tile carried by the truck, over both autos.

Flavin said the truck was a total wreck. Damage to the autos was estimated at about $700 each.

Electronics Lead Stock Market Gains Today

NEW YORK (UPI)—Electronics issues led the stock market higher today.

The firm tone prevailing at the opening spread to virtually all groups in the list, but the space age issues by far scored the biggest gains.

The trading community apparently regarded favorably Kaiser Steel Corp.'s intention to negotiate separately with the Steel Workers' Union and the union's plans to file an appeal in the Taft-Hartley injunction late Tuesday.

Some of the wider swings included Texas Instruments with a rise of more than 4, and Ampex which rose more than 3. IBM was another favorite in the electronics and advanced nearly 4.

Brazilians 'Enter' Chessman Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Forty Brazilians have offered to die in the place of convict-author Garry Chessman and some 2,600,000 other Brazilians have signed petitions asking for the condemned man's release, according to Brazilian industrialist Giacomo Franco.

"The Chessman case has attracted more attention and interest in Brazil than any other event in the last five years," said Franco.

THE MILLIONAIRE industrialist said at a news conference Sunday that California Gov. Edmund G. Brown's refusal to grant Chessman clemency is hurting America's reputation in Brazil.

Francisco said he visited Chessman in San Quentin's Death Row last week and told him that if he is freed he would be welcomed in Brazil where he could "become a leader in the fight against crime."

FRANCO SAID he placed the petitions from Brazil before Brown and told the governor that Chessman has become a "national symbol" in his country in the fight against the death penalty.

Capital punishment does not exist in Brazil, Franco explained, but there currently are efforts to have it placed in the law books.

NEHRU PREPARES ANSWER TO REDS

NEW DELHI—UPI — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru conferred today with India's No. 2 anti-Communist, Home Secretary Govind Ballabh Pant, on the Indian reply to Peiping charges that India is provoking the trouble in the disputed border areas.

Indian newspapers urged Nehru to take a more militant stand against the Chinese Reds. Popular feeling also was running high in the wake of the clash Wednesday between Indian constabulary and Red Chinese troops in Ladakh in Kashmir.

THE HINDUSTAN Times, the Times of India and the Indian Express voiced some of the most bitter criticisms yet of Nehru's policies toward Communist China. The Press called for "appropriate military and political actions short of war" to defend India's territorial rights, and warned of the dangers of trying to appease Peiping.

IT WAS CONSIDERED certain Khrushchev would address the Supreme Soviet when it begins the first of its two annual meetings Tuesday, but the Khrushchev speech could come later in the session.

He has reported to the nation by radio and television on his trip to the United States and his talks with President Eisenhower but he has not yet reported on his trip to Peiping and his conference with Communist Party Leader Mao Tse-tung.

Palm Desert CofC Board Backs College

PALM DESERT — Chamber of Commerce directors today fired off a double-barreled attack against opposition to the Odell Ranch junior college site here.

The board unanimously adopted a resolution favoring the junior college site in preference to Hank Gogerty's Palm Desert Airport "if it ever comes to a choice between the two."

AT THE SAME time, the board dispatched letters to the County Board of Supervisors and state agencies challenging the County Airport Commission's action in passing a resolution opposing the junior college site selection.

In their resolution, chamber directors expressed the wish that the airport and college enjoy a peaceful coexistence. But the statement pointed out that the board would offer unqualified support to the college site in any contest for the existence of either one.

"WE FEEL THAT the college would be more beneficial for the cultural, educational and economic development of the community and would be of greater benefit for the future progress of the area and generations to come."

Nationalism on Rise

Red Party Loses Prestige in Iraq

BAGHDAD, Iraq (UPI) — The Communist Party appeared today to have suffered a serious loss of popular support in Iraq although it still retains its hold on most government functions.

Nationalism was on the rise, and political observers said a decisive battle could be expected momentarily for control of his politically-divided nation.

PREMIER ABDEL Karim Kassem, still recuperating from bullet wounds inflicted last month by a band of assassins, undoubtedly has lost both popularity and prestige in Iraq and in the rest of the Arab world.

The nationalists have been sharply divided in the past on the issue of whether to swing in with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic but opposition to Communism was uniting them in a common front.

Experienced political observers here estimated that at least eight out of every ten Iraqis now oppose the Kassem government for a variety of reasons, both political and economic.

LAST MONTH'S execution of 13 nationalist army officers and four civilian officials of the old regime permanently alienated the nationalists, observers believed.

DISARMAMENT STUDY PROPOSED

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United States and the Soviet Union are expected to present a joint resolution to the United Nations next week asking the new disarmament committee to consider both eastern and western plans for disarming.

Diplomatic sources said U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov are near agreement on the evolution which they have been discussing since early last week.

THE MEASURE was expected to be put before the U.N.'s main political committee not later than Wednesday.

It was expected to recommend that the 10-nation disarmament committee give fullest attention to these plans:

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's total disarmament in four years plan.

The three-phase plan of the British, put before the assembly by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

FRENCH DISARMAMENT expert Jules Moch's proposal for a ban on all nuclear carriers, submarines to satellites.

"Proposals from any other nations which may be presented later."

The committee, formed by the Big Four foreign ministers, will meet in Geneva in February. Its membership is balanced between east and west, with the United States, Britain, France, Canada, and Italy forming the western faction and the U.S.S.R., Bulgaria, Poland, Romania, and Czechoslovakia making up the Communist contingent.

Conference delegates from Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino and Riverside Counties are probing the field of employee relations under the guidance of top employment experts from all parts of the nation.

MOTHER FORCED TO ISOLATE SON DUE TO LANGUAGE

MILFORD HAVEN, England (UPI) — Mrs. Rita Poole had to face up to the fact Sunday that her 3-year-old son's use of "four letter words" caused the neighbors to give him the cold shoulder.

Kevin let go with a burst of profanity on neighborhood children Sunday in Haverford West, where he and his mother are vacationing.

Adults within earshot were agast.

So was the town's housing inspector George Davies.

Public pressure compelled Mrs. Poole to confine Kevin to the house lest "he get into more trouble."

She said that she had pleaded with him not to use such language but that he ignored her.

"He did not pick it up at home," she said.

Mutual Funds Benefits Told

Definite Investment Plan Urged by Expert

By ELMER C. WALZER
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The average person with moderate funds or little knowledge of market techniques should have a simple, definite investment plan, says an investment company expert.

Arthur Wiesenberger, head of the Stock Exchange firm that bears his name, notes that what confuses the average person with surplus funds is the endless variety of investment temptations.

THIS CONFUSION, he said, results in loss of either income or principal if an individual refuses to consider what is the best thing to do or attempts to do that "best thing" hastily and without adequate consideration.

Also, he adds, the lure of speculative profits is irresistible to some while others have the tendency to sacrifice too much for liquidity.

WIESENBERGER HAS written a little booklet entitled "The Modern Way To Invest." In it he stresses the value of mutual funds in which he is considered an outstanding authority.

He warns against investment in fixed dollar items which do not give a hedge against inflation, and he also warns that the average man or woman can make costly mistakes of risky speculations, or even of doing nothing.

HE THEREUPON launches into his thesis of setting forth the advantages of mutual funds of which there are investments of $14 billion.

Here is how he describes a mutual fund operation:

"A mutual fund operates on the simple principle that a large number of people, by combining their investable savings are able in effect to hire the services of professional investment managers at a cost which is divided among all shareholders, thus enabling each one to obtain many of the investment advantages ordinarily enjoyed only by wealthy people . . .

"MUTUAL FUND managers assume the task of selecting individual securities, keeping up to date on changes in their investment status and handling all details of buying and selling the securities, collecting and distributing income, bookkeeping, tax analysis etc."

Each mutual fund, he points out is designed for a specific investment objective, there is no one fund that is best for everybody.

There are funds which invest in high quality stocks or a combination of high-grade bonds and high quality stocks. Other mutual funds invest in good grade bonds and stocks. There are some designed

VETERANS BOARD DISAGREES WITH BROWN'S DECISION

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California veterans board has voted 4-3 against the state taking over claims services for veterans.

The board voted to ask Gov. Edmund G. Brown to reverse his decision to scratch from the budget funds earmarked for handling of veterans claims by veterans organizations on state contracts.

Brown's decision added $109,000 to the budget of the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs to take over the claims services. The board agreed that the Department should keep the money for other purposes.

for capital appreciation.

COST OF THE funds is determined by the value of the securities and cash the fund owns at the time of purchase, as each share represents a proportional interest in all holdings of the fund.

Prices, he notes are subject to rise and fall with changes in market prices of the various securities held by the fund. Also dividends paid vary according to whether times are good or bad. He lists three main advantages of most funds: Careful selection of securities, diversification of risk, and constant professional supervision.

"THE NEED FOR careful selection and close scrutiny of one's investments is obvious," he says. "Choices based on whims, prejudices or rumors cannot be expected to produce good results."

"Mutual fund managers in their efforts to select issues most likely to achieve the objective of a particular fund, are constantly studying economic factors, business conditions and trends, and the relation of these to the affairs of the various companies in which the fund is interested."

HE STRESSES the need of continuous supervision which is different for the lone individual with out funds to hire an expert.

Mutual funds are not a cure-all and are not for people who want to get rich quick, Wiesenberger says.

CANCER 'PATTERN' PREDICTED

NEW YORK (UPI) — A leading cancer surgeon believes a "pattern" is going to emerge from scientific research which will enable physicians to prevent cancers from ever getting started rather than "concentrating on destructive attempts to eradicate already established malignant tumors."

Dr. Denely P. Slaughter, professor of surgery, University of Illinois, was impressed by such scientific findings as these: Cirrhosis of the liver can have a bearing not only on liver tumors "but much more importantly" on the development of cancers in the mouth, "and, quite probably, on the origin of cancer in other sites."

The "interplay" among the hormones secreted by the endocrine gland, has a connection in "a given individual" with the start of cancers in some body tissues.

He expected much to come from investigations of viruses as

Presley to Leave Army Hospital

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Elvis Presley, hospitalized with a throat infection, is progressing satisfactorily, an army spokesman reported today.

The rock 'n' roll singer "should be out of the hospital by the end of the week," the spokesman said. Doctors apparently decided against removing Presley's tonsils.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that a man who has a wife will pick up some tramp and treat her like a lady? Then he will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp?

LYDIA
DEAR LYDIA: A man picks up a "tramp" because he wants a female companion who is no better than he is. In her company, he doesn't feel inferior. He rewards her by treating her "like a lady."

He treats his wife (who is a lady) like a "tramp" because he feels that by degrading her, he will bring her down to his level. This makes him feel guilty. So in order to "get even" with his wife for making him feel guilty, he keeps right on punishing her.

DEAR ABBY: I have a buddy who is 18 years old, but his family treats him like he was about ten. His father says if he has anything to do with girls before he is 21 he will break his neck for him.

Now you know, Miss Abby, it isn't natural for a boy to stay away from girls until he is 21. In fact, I don't think it can be done.

My buddy and I go out with girls (nice ones) once in a while, but we have to lie to his parents. Is there any way I can convince this boy's parents to let him go with girls? I am a minister's son and they like me.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I married a man 14 years my senior. He used to be a sot and I have left him twice for that reason. The last time I left him he got mad and cashed in his Life Insurance and all his bonds. He sold all his property and turned everything into cash. He made a will leaving me one dollar!

He doesn't know I am aware of his will, but I know it is true. If I mentioned it to him he would refuse to discuss it. I am 51 years old and am not trained to go to work. I have no other source of income. I am disgusted and have lost all respect for him. Have you any ideas of what I should do in a case like this?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: If your husband feels no moral obligation to you, your only hope is that he has a legal one. A lawyer can tell you what your rights are under the circumstances.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CAN'T SIGN NAME": If YOU don't know, nobody does. You have no legal problem, however, because all children born to you while you are married to your present husband are considered, by law, HIS children.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BADLY BURNED" at the TROPIC ISLE

Skindiver's Find

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Young Patrick O'Conner dug up some history when he went skin diving off Point Breeze south of Buffalo. The 12-year-old boy spotted a rusted cannon in eight feet of water. With help from his mother and sister he dragged the 200-pound weapon to shore. Authorities believe the cannon dates to the War of 1812.

EARL WILSON

Welk Hollywood Home Puritanical

NEW YORK — There are no ashtrays in the Hollywood home of Lawrence Welk. And visitors who might be wanting a drink had better tote a flask.

Welk is almost puritanical in these days of Hollywood high-living. After he'd done his ABC TV show one recent Saturday night, in L.A., I had dinner with him — not in his home but in an apartment over his small office on Santa Monica Blvd. It was the apartment of Laurie Lamont and Ann Randall, who work in his office handling fan mail.

Trailing along with Welk were his secretary, Lois Lamont, who is Laurie's sister, and Welk's son, Lawrence Jr., 19.

The girls fixed some martinis and broiled some steaks. Welk skipped the martini.

He was all business. He had to leave in an hour to conduct his orchestra at the Aragon Ballroom where it's played Saturday nights for nine years.

"We don't encourage drinking in the orchestra, in fact we discourage it," Welk said, taking time out to play with Laurie Lamont's white French poodle, "Chante," which roams the office downstairs sometimes.

"Suppose you were in my orchestra and you had a drinking problem," he said.

"Somebody would say 'What's happened to Earl Wilson?' We would say, 'Earl's not been feeling too well. We hope he can straighten himself out and be back with us.'"

"We also have a little problem with a number of people in the band who are getting a little heavy," Welk confided.

"If you have a little bit of a belly, on TV it shows off as a big belly. I had a visit with one of my men today. I told him the cameraman was complaining he could hardly get him on the screen. The man thought if he held his head up higher, his chin would not show up so much. I said to him, maybe he should give some serious consideration to going on a diet."

Welk smiled. "We kid 'em into it."

"How about your weight?" I asked Welk, who was thin.

"I dance it off. I dance it off!"

Welk was wearing an extremely gaudy Hawaiian shirt. "You're not going to keep wearing that shirt, are you?" Laurie said.

"Why not I like it," he answered.

"I don't," the girl said.

"Everybody must like it — they're all staring at it," he said back — in all earnestness.

Welk got at the wheel of his Dodge and drove me out to the ballroom. He was going back to the Dakotas shortly on a hunting vacation.

"I'm going to work on the farm and see if I can still take it. Got to have an excuse to go hunting, see?"

Naive and rustic as he seemed at times, when he got on the bandstand he was all Show Business — dynamic and peppery. But his chief satisfaction was sitting at the edge of the stand at intermission signing autographs and talking to fans — mostly middle-aged or older.

"Howdy, folks," he greeted them. "Howdy." A little girl stepped up. "Well, what a pretty little girl. What do you want an autograph for? Your grandma?"

It was time for me to go.

"Hope you liked Laurie's steak," Welk said. "If it wasn't good, it wasn't her fault, it was the cow's."

RETURN TO L.A. SET BY MRS. ARNESS

HONOLULU (UPI) — Mrs. James Arness, wife of the television star of the "Gunsmoke" series, was en route to Los Angeles today — apparently in good condition after treatment for superficial wounds on both wrists.

Mrs. Arness, 38, was hospitalized briefly at Kaiser Hospital for what were described by authorities as self-inflicted razor blade wounds. The incident occurred early Saturday in her room at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

DETECTIVES SAID Mrs. Arness told them of having "difficulties with her husband at home the last three years." However, she insisted that she wants a reconciliation.

The couple was married in 1948 after meeting at the Pasadena Playhouse where they shared leading roles in a production of "Candida." They have two boys and a girl — one of the boys by a former marriage of Mrs. Arness.

MRS. ARNESS arrived here late Friday night on what she described as the first leg of a global trip to forget her domestic problems.

However, she was released from the hospital Sunday night and boarded a plane for Los Angeles.

There are now 1,150,000 automobiles in Sweden, twice as many as five years ago.

HAS ANYBODY SEEN HARVEY? If you haven't, drop in on the Palm Springs High School auditorium Nov. 13 and enjoy a riotous introduction to the whimsical rabbit in the Mary Chase play, "Harvey." Here, Jeff Wade (who plays Elwood P. Dowd) drapes a friendly arm around his invisible rabbit pal as other cast members of the junior class play look on with amused skepticism. Also featured in the high school comedy presentation are, left to right, front row, Patty Patzner, Barbara Finerman, Mary Hillen and Jerry Dumas. Back row, from left, Bill Rutledge, Paula Mindell, George Gamble, Rodney Townsend and Gail Butler. (Desert Sun Photo)

School Starts Rehearsals for 'Harvey' Play

Members of Palm Springs High School's junior dramatics class have launched rehearsals on the first school play of the year — "Harvey," the whimsical tale of a mythical rabbit.

Harvey makes his resort debut on the stage of the high school auditorium Nov. 13.

THE FAMOUS Mary Chase comedy is directed by Alex Hammond and student director Diane Harrison.

Cast members of the junior class play are Patty Patzner, Barbara Finerman, Mary Jane Hillen, Paula Mindell, Gale Butler, Jeff Wade, Jerry Dumas, Rodney Townsend and George Gamble.

Wade plays the key role of Elwood P. Dowd, a mild-mannered dipsomaniac who claims the friendship of a giant, invisible rabbit.

MEMBERS OF the stage crew are Elinor Hilton and Jan Blemling, prompters; Charlotte Curlin, publicity chairman; Rita Shipman, Mary Beebe and Pat Mathews, publicity committee members; Bobbye Bedford, Sandy Huech, Mari Anne Williams and Janet Owens, make up.

Sherry Pack and Gino Villarreal are stage managers and Bobby Floyd and Marey Bengert are business managers.

Finnish Ballet Held 'Unique'

LOS ANGELES — A style that is uniquely its own is that of the celebrated National Ballet Theatre of Finland, which is the Republic's President Urho K. Kekkonen has sent on its first American tour.

The vivid troupe dances on Impresario Mary Bran's concert series for the benefit of the Finlandia Foundation Scholarship Fund in the Wilshire Ebell Theatre at 8:30 Wednesday night, Nov. 25, the Santa Monica Auditorium at 8:30 Friday night, Nov. 27, and the Pasadena Civic Auditorium at 8:20 Saturday night, Nov. 28.

Ty Hardin, Wife Have Twin Boys

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actor Ty Hardin's wife, actress Andrea Martin, 23, gave birth to twin boys Saturday in Presbyterian Hospital.

Hardin, 28, and his wife named the boys John and Jeff. They were the couple's first children.

ERROL FLYNN WILL 'ALMOST CERTAIN' TO GO TO COURTS

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—The legal fight over the rights of two of Errol Flynn's daughters, Deidre and Rory, appeared almost certain today to end up in New York courts where the actor's will is to be probated.

Attorney Saul Ross petitioned successfully Friday to withdraw a request filed in Santa Monica Superior Court. The request sought an increase in the $550 per month child support allowed Mrs. Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes for her two daughters, Deidre, 14, and Rory, 12. Ross explained the filing of Flynn's will in New York prompted the decision.

Miss Eddington already has indicated she will contest the will of the actor, who died last week at Vancouver, B.C. The document leaves most of Flynn's property to his third wife, Pat Wymore.

Nobody Gets Mad At Velvel Insults

There's something happening every second from the outset to the completion of the current show in the Chi Chi's Starlite Room.

Most of it is star-studded entertainment, too.

RICKIE LAYNE and his pint-sized buddy, Velvel, race through a madcap routine that includes slurs on the musical ability of Bill Alexander's band as well as some downright disparaging remarks on the mental competency of the audience.

Did anyone get mad? They did not. In fact, the best laughs — the deep, down-under-yonder type guffaws — were more prevalent on this material.

Samples of the Layne-Velvel humor:

Velvel, nodding towards Bill Dixon at the piano: "There's my father."

Layne: "You mean the piano player?"

Velvel: "No, I mean the piano."

There is great pace in the Layne-Velvel segment of the show but this is solid professionalism. This same professionalism also marks the work of dancer Lois Ray, who could make it very nicely with her dancing alone but who has also gone to the effort to provide a dancing segment that holds great personality appeal. This would include the puppet dancer, Laurie, who mimics the dance steps of her owner with great appeal.

NOT UNTIL Bob Newkirk tackled "Granada" did the handsome singer demonstrate real potential. Velvel also "sings" but we'll not go into that. His gags are what makes the Starlite Room bill a solid entertainment treat.—G. L.

50-Star Flags Arrive

Every good citizen should have at least one American Flag suitable for display at home or his place of business on those special days and patriotic occasion when Old Glory plays a leading role in natural observance.

Now that the number of stars in our national emblem has been increased from the 48 which prevailed for so many years, to 50 in token of the similar increase in the total of States with the recent inclusion of Hawaii and Alaska as integral parts of these United States, everyone will want one of the "new" Flags of 50-star design.

Because Flags are so difficult to obtain in the average community inasmuch as they have become an item not usually stocked in local stores, and as a special service to residents of the Desert Empire, The DESERT SUN has secured a large consignment of those of our readers who wish to procure one.

They will be available at the circulation department of this newspaper in the 3 x 5 foot size, which is ideal for display either in or out of doors. In addition to the Flag, The DESERT SUN is also including a standard base and staff, all at less than wholesale cost to subscribers who present the special coupons from this newspaper at only $2.75 for the complete package.

Although a large number were ordered, the nearness of Armistice and Veterans Day on November 11th, and the fact that The DESERT SUN now serves thousands of homes in the Desert Empire six days each week, indicates that the supply of these large, beautiful new and much wanted 50-star Flags will be exhausted rapidly.

The DESERT SUN is pleased and proud to have a part in thus helping promote the symbol of patriotism in the desert region and provide many homes and places of business with handsome Flags for display on those other important annual celebrations such as Decoration and Memorial Day, Flag Day, Fourth of July, and many other appropriate occasions.

Can You Spare a Dime?

WASHINGTON, D.C. — This is the tale of two travelers. They are two American officials who are back from foreign parts. They were telling, in successive-day press conferences, the same story: raising in a listener's mind the same question. The question: does a loan, as Shakespeare once observed, "of lose both itself and friend?"

SENATOR JOHN STENNIS (D, Miss.) went around the world on business for his two Senate Committees, Armed Services and Appropriations. Nobody speaks softer than this charming Southern scholar of law and government. He is not a man for the fast draw on conclusions and colorful impressionism. But the Senator, who said he'd never before been west of San Francisco, was appalled at the picture which his Pacific view-point showed him of Uncle Sam — Atlas upholding the World!

"We are defending this vast area," said Stennis, "with virtually no assistance from other free nations."

IN KOREA, WE man the armed border against rampant communism. We use our own troops, and we pay 75 per cent of the cost of the South Korean troops. Two small allies have taken forces there, but it is a stale joke to go on calling this a United Nations effort.

If the U.S. pulled out, Red China would sweep down the peninsula and would soon pour over the Orient. Senator Stennis says he cannot envision our being able to leave Korea before another 20 or 30 years. He asks the help of the free nations to whom we have loaned money and given our blood in such volume:

"How long can we carry this burden? How much can we endure, and for how many years?"

UNLESS SOME of the nations which took our help begin to return it, says this careful-worded man, we risk a break-down of our economy and we fall back on the single-weapon concept of nuclear defense.

Senator Stennis was talking to at least one reporter, who, less than 24 hours before, had heard the same story in another version from a different sort of man.

VANCE BRAND, a suave, platinum-blond, banker-type of Federal Administrator, is director of the Development Loan Fund. Mr. Brand was just back from the Middle East and, evidently, not long out of some serious Governmental huddles. With the air of one very adept at breaking startling news gently, the Director told us in effect that his agency was going on a Buy American plan.

Hitherto, the DLF, a 1957 addition to the Foreign Aid complex, had been lending money to underdeveloped nations on easy terms, repayable in local currencies, allowing the recipients to purchase equipment wherever they liked.

ALMOST HALF (44 per cent) of the last $300 million under DLF has been spent to buy non-American equipment and tools.

The flow of wealth has been away from American shores and into the coffers of Britain, Japan, West Germany and others who have taken so much of our aid.

Like Senator Stennis, Director Brand called for some help in shouldering the world. He found what he called "a fair presumption" that the nouveau riche nations could afford to chip in on these loans to the poor. In any event, American taxpayers will not be paying for so many foreign-made bulldozers and cement mixers as in the lush days of Share America.

THERE WERE these two interviews, but the gist is all one. The Senator sees us holding the Far East ramparts. The Director sees American dollars leaving the country to enrich manufacturing nations which we recently set up in business.

There is astonishing prosperity in Japan, in the British crown colony of Hong Kong and in Thailand — all booming under protection of the American flag. There is some need for capital in India, in Latin America and in the Middle East — most of them subsisting on loans and grants from the flattening American purse. The Senator sees it from one angle, the Administrator from another.

And so we come now to an historical question period. Did we buy any friendship with our generosity? Will the rich nations, going up the ladder, remember when they saw us before — the time when they were going down.

—Holmes Alexander

Hunger Might Be Stronger Than Taft-Hartly

This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

This is a week
 You may think is funny,
 But it isn't.
 It's in honor of Honey.

That doesn't mean that you should rush out and buy something for your girl friend. The week is set aside for observance of the activities of the busy little bee and is intended to make you add more of his output to your diet.

SPEAKING OF WEEKS reminds me. Next week is International Cat Week and the American Feline Society has already reminded me of same with a portfolio of facts which includes a decal to affix to the windshield of the car, that is.

Caryl Chessman should observe that week with deep thought.

He has been snatched from the death chamber seven times. Two more and he can sneer at cats. He'll have as many lives as they have.

STILL DISCUSSING special weeks — last week was National Newspaper Week during which there was a day set aside to honor newsboys.

It was appropriate that during the Week, I ran into Bob Hillery of Cathedral City.

Because Bob was the first Desert Sun newsboy.

And the only one. Now there are 70 serving you.

HILLERY SOLD papers for The Sun away back when it was in a three-room office on North Palm Canyon Drive, next to the old city hall.

Also appropriate for Newspaper Week is the observance of an important anniversary today, just after the close of the Week. It was 195 years ago, October 26, 1764, that the Hartford Courant, oldest continuously published newspaper in the United States, ran off its first issue.

I THINK the Chamber of Commerce missed a bet last Thursday.

Maybe they didn't. The line was busy when I called and I neglected to call back.

Anyway, the President went to Augusta, Ga., for a five-day vacation and ran into a heavy rain storm.

They should have sent Ike a wire: "Come back to Palm Springs. The sun is shining and its comfortable dry 90."

(Note — If it is raining when this appears, don't blame me. I'm no weather prognosticator.)

ON THE DESERT last week soaking up a bit of our sunshine was Karl Stewart (Stu) Moldrem, cartoonist for the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and other Hearst papers.

Probably a refugee from some of that drizzly weather in the northwest.

He was visiting his dad, Karl Andreas Moldrem who keeps piano wires in these parts in harmonious accord.

Interesting little UPI dispatch the other day reported that Daniel Boone of Nashville, Tenn., went out and shot himself a bear in the Cherokee National Forest.

Different man, same name, same aim.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Everything in Season

We have whopped the opposition and there is joy in the village tonight. I did not see the whole game (I saw parts of it on my way to and from the grocery store — the football field is plainly visible from the road and with traffic, you can see a good deal just poking along.)

We were clearly superior. I think our cheer leaders were prettier. Swung their pompons more viciously, too. "Give 'em the ax!" we cried. "The ax, the ax!"

I TOOK MY 4-YEAR-old son to the store with me. We just eased along and never mind the people blowing their horns behind us.

We saw two or three plays on the way down. On the way back, we double-parked. Saw two plays and the end of the game. We won. Hurrah!

I LIKE THE END of a game. It is the most dramatic time. Especially in high school games.

At the end of the game, our team put their heads together and give a cheer for the opposing side. THEY put THEIR heads together and gave a cheer for us.

That is the proper spirit. That is the way we did when I was swiveling my shifty hips down the green gridiron.

AFTER YOU GAVE the cheer for the opponents. You dragged off your helmet (so everybody could catch every flicker of emotion). You walked off the field.

If you won, you had a stern look on your face. Indicating that the Best Team won but it was no summer cruise.

IF YOU LOST, you have a stern look. But more tragic. More like, "It is a far better thing I do, etc." "Take care of the Lieutenant first, Doc, etc."

Since we always lost — we never won a single game — I was always tragic. The Hamlet of the backfield.

THAT IS AN important part

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Rushing Lanza Record

Hollywood RCA-Victor is hushing a single record by the late Mario Lanza record out of the music stores. It's "I'll Walk with God," backed with "Guardian Angels." The late Errol Flynn publisher is rushing too—to get "My Wicked, Wicked Ways," Errol's autobiography into the nation's bookstore racks before the author is forgotten.

Dorothy Harmon, the Las Vegas chorine who once accompanied Elvis Presley to Memphis to meet his parents, is now harmonizing with Sal Mineo. GREG PECK SIGNED up for tap-dancing lessons for his part as the billionaire who can't dance but learns how after he falls in love with a showgirl named Marilyn Monroe in "The Billionaire." You see, it's like this: the shooting schedule arranged by director George Cukor is so fast that Greg won't be able to learn how to dance while the picture is shooting, and that's why Greg—oh, forget I ever brought the subject up, will ya?

Josh Logan has announced Fredric March as one of the stars of the cinematic Fanny but March hasn't signed for it and won't until Logan assures him there'll be no overtime—in writing. March, I'm told, is concerned about his ticker.

PATSY KELLY spotted a Colorado license plate on Sunset Boulevard and told her cabdriver: Follow that car—I wanna tell them how much I HATED Pike's Peak!

Metro producer Aaron Rosenberg is romancing Lee J. Cobb and Anthony Franciosa to play the Greek father and son in "Go Naked in the World."

Plato Skouras secured the services of the Rev. Hugh Noonan as research consultant on Eugene Vale's script for "St. Francis of Assisi."

Dusty and Jeff Hunter sold their home on the beach at Santa Monica to move in closer to the smog. Corinne Calvet is kicking up in the night clubs again. She got rid of her ulcers.

A NATIONAL photo magazine (Life) bought a group of photos of Errol Flynn taken during the actor's last Hollywood visit before his death. Errol is shown portraying his own version of "the death scene of John Barrymore."

Movies about teenage werewolves are paying off. American-International has allotted its biggest budget yet—$1,000,000 to Herman Cohen, whose "I Was A Teenage Werewolf" cost $400,000 and has grossed $3,000,000 so far, for his next picture. It's "Aladdin and the Giant." Cohen will wide-screen it in color in Spain with a cast of unknown teenagers, same as before.

CHANNEL CHATTER—Metro is scrambling to spring Efrim Zimbalist Jr. from his 77 Sunset Strip series at Warner-TV to play Liz Taylor's boy friend in "Butterfield 8."

Steve Allen will beam the annual Look Magazine best-picture actor-etcetera awards on his Dec. 23rd show, thus getting a good jump on every other Awards show from Oscar to Emmy.

Frank Sinatra selected lovely Juliet Prowse for his "Can-Can" corps de ballet to fly with him in his February spec, "Come Fly with Me." He stole the title for that one from his own best-selling record album. Frank will give this one a Large Charge of dancing footage, in lieu of singing. He is also trying to sign Cyd Charisse and Mitzi Gaynor for the same show.

JONATHAN WINTERS, now starring at the Riviera in Las Vegas, recorded his "adventures" in the sanitarium to which he was committed while suffering an envious breakdown. He calls the sanitarium the "funny farm." The long play album will be released by Verve Records. Crazy!

I guess Dinah Shore was prouder of yesterday's (Oct. 25) show than any she's done to date. After her Swedish singing with Ingemar Johanson and Hungarian singing with Zsa Zsa Gabor, Dinah told me, the toughest job yet was learning to sing "Getting to Know You" in Japanese and Chinese for this show.

YOU'LL PROBABLY think you've been endowed with double vision or somethin' during the next six months or so—that's if you go to movies and watch television too. Fox has "loaned" the sets designed for several of its new movies to the studio's television arm, Fox TV. It saves on production costs.

In the new Five Fingers series from that lot, one segment will include the Garden of Allah set built for "Beloved Infidel," another will show the Lost Kingdom set built from Pat Boone's "Journey to the Center of the Earth" movie, and a third segment will be backgrounded by the gambling casino built for Fox Films' "Seven Thieves." A case of a studio not only letting its left hand know what its right is doing but also, to coin another cliché, robbing Peter to pay Paul.

JIMMY DURANTE roped Ray Bolger to join his all-star Dec. 6 spec for NBC, "Give My Regards to Broadway." Jane Powell and Eddie Hodges are also in it.

Jacques Tati, France's delightful "Mr. Hulot," will be heading this way one of these days to do a TV shot based on his comical movie creation.

A visitor from Las Vegas stood on La Cienega Boulevard watching the children whizzing around on the Kiddie Carnival's merry-go-round. "You must be crazy," said the man from Gambelburg, "and I mean ALL you people here in Hollywood—gambling away your children like that!"

Editor,

The Desert Sun:

I received a petition in my box a day or so ago that I think is the most scurrilous attack on a private citizen, one who has done more for this community than any other one man, and this petition was a further affront to fair thinking in that it was anonymous.

I do hope that the Supervisors before recognizing this petition ask the people who sent it out to identify themselves so that we may know them.

"What's It Like?"

Life in Washington D.C.

By ROSE McKEE

WASHINGTON — Does life in the White House spoil one for living in a more modest setting?

Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, says no. He was in and out of the White House during the "F.D.R." years and lived in the executive mansion for a time.

Roosevelt said that perhaps it was because he, his sister and brothers were grown by the time their parents went to the White House that "we never considered it home in the same sense we did Hyde Park."

He added that "there was always the strong feeling the White House belonged to the people of the United States and not to its individual occupants so probably we treated it with a little more reverence and, therefore, it was not so homelike. But Father and Mother tried to make it homelike upstairs."

Most of the time during the two years he was his President-Father's secretary, Roosevelt lived in a Washington house he bought rather than in the White House because "I have a theory people are happier in their own home."

The Congressman's present Washington home is a contemporary house of field stone and white brick with a basement, two-car garage, two bedrooms, two bathrooms, den, living room with dining area attached, and a kitchen, with a family room in the basement along with an extra bedroom and bath.

Roosevelt, who bought the house new, told the National Association of Home Builders that it is "not an unusual house—it is a modest one but it has modern conveniences and fits our size and we like it because of the trees around it."

The Roosevelts, who have an infant son, do not have a maid unless they are going to have company. The Congressman said that "Mrs. Roosevelt is the best cook in the world—she enjoys cooking and I enjoy having her cook."

One of their prized possessions is the desk his father used at Hyde Park. A replica of a desk used by George Washington, it once belonged to then President Woodrow Wilson, who used it aboard the ship, George Washington, when he was on his way to the Versailles peace conference.

The Congressman said his father bought the mahogany desk at an auction because of its historical association. That was before "F.D.R." became Governor of New York. The late President in his will gave his children a choice of his personal possessions and the Congressman, being the eldest son, had the first choice among the boys. He selected the desk.

He also had a dining room table that was used at Hyde Park, which his mother sent him. Otherwise, the Roosevelt home is pretty much furnished in maple. But many pictures in the family room record the life of his parents.

Asked if he could spotlight by an incident the difference between life in the White House and his Washington home, Roosevelt said: "I am very fond of trees. Frequently there were things about the White House grounds that I had a feeling I might like to do something about. But because the White House had a gardener who was employed by the Government, I hesitated to make suggestions."

"Now, if we want to plant a particular kind of tree or bush, we are able to do so and it is a fine feeling."

Life in Rancho Mirage

In sharp contrast to their Washington home, which is done in early American, is the desert abode of Irene and James Roosevelt, located at 71-530 Biskra in Rancho Mirage.

Here, under the desert sun, life is in the casual style, that includes snacks in front of the television or around the kitchen table . . . and lounging poolside and admiring the rimming mountains with the afternoon shadows purpling it with plum colors. It's a house of carefree living in the desert way, and only the Roosevelt coat of arms on the wall by the fireplace, and the startling resemblance of the host to his famous father, remind you that here is the scion of one of the nation's first families.

The furniture, instead of antique or family pieces, for the most part, is Danish modern, and the big livingroom is dominated by a huge stone fireplace, which contrasts with the white drapes that are flecked with gold. The full length windows face the pool area.

It isn't a particularly large house but its three bedrooms two baths, livingroom, diningroom and kitchen are arranged in rambling one-story fashion that is almost universal on the desert.

It has a gravel yard and crushed rock roof.

The Roosevelts bought the house last May and moved in during September when Congress adjourned. Roosevelt, of course, is a Congressman from the Los Angeles area.

Both love the desert way of life and have already participated actively in Democratic and civic functions in Palm Springs.

Try Barbecuing With Wine

Barbecued means simply roasted or grilled meat, but to most Americans the word has a special appealing glamor. Like the New England clam bake, the old-fashioned picnic, and the iced watermelon of the Deep South, the barbecue is an expression of a casual way of living and entertaining that has spread from coast to coast. The wonderful thing about the barbecue is that it can be done indoors as well as outdoors, in an ordinary oven as well as on the patio grills that are so much a part of desert living.

Barbecuing is not a special method of cooking requiring elaborate equipment and gadgets, but is mainly a matter of flavors. The sauce used to marinate and baste the meat is all important. It should be rich and subtle, blending with and enhancing the flavor of the meat. For centuries expert cooks have been depending on wine as a basis for meat sauces, since wine mel-lows and blends the seasonings and herbs, adding a delicate overtone of its own.

Wine barbecue recipes have been collected and published in a colorful little booklet "Come to Our Barbecue" by The Taylor Wine Company of Hammondsport, New York State.

The collection includes recipes and advice for the barbecue addict. It deals with the popular kebabs, "Different Hamburgers," Garlic French Bread, Spicy Grilled Ham, Frankfurters for Fun, Hot Dogs in Togs, Broiled Barbecued Shrimp, Oven-Barbecued Fish, Fish Kebabs Keuka, Wine Barbecued Steak, Jim Beard's Turkey Treat, Wine Barbecued Duckling, Cinnamon Chick Honey-Sherry Glazed Spare ribs.

Its sauce recipes offer a Pun-gent Marinade, Texas Wine Barbecue Sauce, Lusty Barbecue Sauce for Chicken and Pork Chop, Chef's Barbecue Sauce, Basic barbecue sauce recipes and the Devil Sauce, as well as helpful hints for food preparation, combinations and treatment.

The booklet is available free of charge from your own wine retailer, or write to: Dept. B, The Taylor Wine Co., Inc. Hammondsport, New York, or by dropping in at the Desert Sun and leaving your name and address.

Make-Up Master Cautions Against 'Masking' Face

United Press International CHICAGO (UPI) — Make-up should "interpret" a woman's face, not mask it, says one expert.

Syd Simon, who teaches the gentle sex how to apply cosmetics for the best results, said make-up should "bring the features of the face into balance."

His pupils are taught to highlight and shadow the face, to make the most of good points and minimize the unattractive ones.

Simon offers two courses in make-up. One instructs the woman in how to pretty-up for daytime or informal occasions. The second includes coaching on how to achieve a more exotic appearance for evenings.

The beauty needs which Simon said should be found in every woman's dresser are:

—Cleansing tissue and cotton-tipped sticks.

—Cleansing cream or lotion, moisture cream, lubricating cream for very dry skin, and freshener for oil skin only.

—Foundation cream or lotion, powder, cream rouge, "two or three eyeshadows because this should match the lady's dress," three lipsticks in blue, clear and yellow reds, blue and black mascara, and a soft lead pencil in lieu of an eyebrow pencil.

Simon can work almost any magic with make-up. He has camouflaged black eyes and birthmarks, and during World War II he made up white FBI agents as Negroes.

He turned down one prospective customer, however, a young man who asked to be made up to look like someone else, "just anyone else." Suspicious, Simon pressed the caller on why he wanted to shed his identity, and finally drew the confession that he planned to stage a hold-up.

Bob Fuller Star

Multiple Heroes Seen on 'Laramie'

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Co-hero of a new western TV series is an engaging young man named Bob Fuller who appears in "Laramie" with three other co-heroes.

In the early days of TV it took only one hero with a half-witted sidekick to handle the bad guys — e.g., "The Cisco Kid," "Wild Bill Hickok," "Gunsmoke."

FULLER LOOKS and acts tough enough to massacre an entire tribe of redskins single-handed, with perhaps some comedy relief from Mickey Rooney. But with an hour-long show, a tight schedule, and the new fad for multiple heroes, viewers will never learn just how good he is on his own.

He's an ex-stunt man who does many of his own falls and tricks, which is more than most horse opera heroes do.

ASKED WHY HE couldn't handle the heavies on his own, Bob — a soft-spoken, nice guy — didn't have a chance to answer. His producer, a big wheel named Dick Lewis, stepped in. Lewis also bosses "Wagon Train" and "Riverboat" for NBC, both of which have more than one clean-cut, fearless good guy in the lead.

AND IT IS LEWIS who conceived "Laramie," constructing it as carefully as a Shakespearean tragedy, complete with all the Freudian, psychological and philosophical gimmicks possible. When Lewis finished explaining the intricacies of the characters it made you feel that poor old Bob Fuller should have been playing "Hamlet."

"He try to balance out the cast to give our audience a rounded characterization," said Lewis. "For instance, Bob here plays a will independent loner type that appeals to the streak in all of us that rebels against society."

"THEY THERE'S John Smith, the co-star. He is a solid, dependable guy who represents the substantial element of any community. Torn between these two is little Roben Crawford, siding first with one, then the other."

WHEN TERRY (Penny Parker) attempts a program of self-improvement for her father and mother, she learns parents have their own ideas on the subject in "The Danny Thomas Show," Monday, Oct. 26, on the CBS Television Network (8:30-9 p. m. pst.). Danny Thomas stars as New York night club entertainer Danny Williams. Majorie Lord co-stars as his wife, Kathy. Rusty Hamer and Angela Cartwright play the other children, Russy and Linda.

'YOU ARE THERE' GOES TO ARIZONA

The fierce struggle in 1881 for lawful order to replace rule by violence in the Southwest will be reenacted when Walter Cronkite and "You Are There" cameras return to Tombstone, Arizona, to see the "Fight at the O. K. Corral," KTTV, Monday, Oct. 26, 9 p. m., Channel 11.

The showdown, between the Clanton and McLowry cowboy group on one hand, and Tombstone marshals — the Earp Brothers — Wyatt, Morgan and Virgil, and their friend, Doc Holliday on the other, takes place on Oct. 26, 1881. Walter Cronkite and "You Are There" cameras range the town of Tombstone from the boisterous Oriental Saloon, to the local courtroom and finally, to the O. K. Corral where the two groups meet head on.

Bob Bray portrays Wyatt Earp; John Alderson plays his brother, Virgil and John Larch is seen as brother Morgan. Barry Atwater is Doc Holliday, DeForrest Kelley is Ike Clanton and Art Rease is Frank McLowry.

Rocket History To Be Shown

Dramatic, yet often humorous film clips of early rocket research in Germany highlight "History of Rockets" on "Adventure Tomorrow," Monday, Oct. 26, 6:30 p. m., KOOP, Channel 13.

Dr. Martin Klein features film of rocket powered ice skaters, motorcycles, automobiles and even rocket powered rockets. As a climax, Klein shows actual German films of some of Hitler's secret weapons of World War II.

Model Father Tag Gives Riley Only Trouble

After being named "Father of the Month" by his lodge, Riley (William Bendix) goes home to find Junior deserves real punishment on KTTV's "The Life of Riley," Monday, Oct. 26, 8 p. m., Channel 11.

Soft-hearted Riley, trying to be a "model father" cannot bring himself to punish Junior (Wesley Morgan) and the two of them fake a severe paddling, which causes reverberations and many recriminations.

The family decide that Riley is an inhuman beast and his long-time friend Gillis (Tom D'Andrea) leaves him. Heart-broken Riley finds himself faced with the loss of his "model father" tag and expulsion from the lodge.

'Weekend in Paris' To Be Feature

Jack Douglas' "Seven League Boots" travel to Paris to tour the city of lovers and weary tourists in "Weekend in Paris," Monday, Oct. 26, 7 p. m., KOOP, Channel 13.

Highlighted are a tour of the famed Franchstudio where many of Frances finest films are made; a meeting with stars Michele Morgan and Charles Boyer; a visit to one of Paris' best-known modeling schools; cocktails with Jean Cocteau; and a first-hand look at Paris at night.

'MASQUERADE PARTY' TO MAKE DEBUT ON CBS MONDAY NIGHT

"Masquerade Party," in which a panel of show-business celebrities attempts to identify prominent guests who appear on the program in various disguises, will be presented on the CBS Television Network beginning Monday, Oct. 26, 7:30-8 p. m., p.s.t.

Bert Parks is master of ceremonies of the weekly series. Regular panelists are Sam Levenson, Jayne and Audrey Meadows, and Lee Bowman.

Allan Sherman is producer and Lloyd Gross directs, for Wolf Productions Co.

The Desert Sun 9

RIVIERA GOLF COURSE, built on the property of the Riviera Hotel will be the fourth complete golfing facility to be operated within the city limits of Palm Springs. The course has nine holes built on 14 acres and has 2,000 yards of fairways. It will be run for guests of the hotel as well as local residents and visitors.

WINTER GOLF CAPITAL OF THE WORLD

Riviera Club Is Newest, Fourth Within City Limits

9-Hole Course Has 30 Par, Opens Nov. 15

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the eleventh in a series of articles on Palm Springs area golf courses. Written, compiled and edited by The Desert Sun Sports staff, the articles are dedicated to a better understanding of the golf facilities in the Winter Golf Capital of the World.)

By FRED C. WEIGEL

Palm Springs in boasting itself as the Winter Golf Capital of the World, claims four golf courses within its city limits and the newest of these is the beautiful, luxurious Riviera Golf Club adjacent to the fabulous Riviera Hotel.

Owned by brothers Mark Schuman and Irvin Schuman, the course is a 30-par, nine-hole, 2,000-yard visitor's paradise.

BUILT IN conjunction with the 250 room Riviera Hotel, it is not a "pitch and putt" course but has some par 4, 280-yard fairways and will be ready for play within the month.

A new innovation has been inaugurated with the start of the Riviera Golf Club. Each fairway has been dedicated to a leading local resident. At each tee will be a dedicatory plaque which the number, the number of yards and a brief message which says "dedicated to . . ." followed by the name of a personality.

TODAY EIGHT of the nine fairways have been dedicated to men who are local residents or frequent visitors. The name and fairway number of these eight are: No. 1 — Milt Hicks; No. 2 — Bob Hope; No. 3 — Bing Crosby; No. 4 — Frank Sinatra; No. 5 — Dean Martin; No. 6 — Nat King Cole; No. 7 — Phil Harris; No. 8 — Jerry Lewis. Number 9 will be named soon.

The longest fairway is No. 7, 220 yards, par 4, and the shortest is No. 1, 125 yards, par 3. As the course opens on Nov. 15 there will be no electric carts, but they are planned at a later date.

THE COURSE also has a driving range and putting green, and possibly the only automatic watering system on a golf course of this size. The system, tied in with a series of clocks, automatically turns hidden sprinklers on during the night only.

The management of the Riviera Golf Club plans to "stimulate a lot of activity" by scheduled tournaments for Villagers, visitors and conventions.

THE RIVIERA Golf Course is laid out east and north of the Riviera Hotel and takes up some 14 acres. It was designed and constructed by Don Crabtree.

In charge of all golf facilities at the Riviera Hotel is well known golf professional and teacher Dale Andreason. He will give lessons, set up tournaments and run the professional shop on the course.

One of Andreason's most loved jobs is his work with a group of Palm Springs students in an organization known as the "Sweet Swingers." He plans to resume the teaching of these youngsters this year, and the program will be co-sponsored by Mark Schuman and Irvin Schuman.

ALTHOUGH PLAY on the course will be specifically for guests of the hotel, local residents, providing starting time is available, will be able to play. The cost for a double round on the 9-hole course will be $2.50 for week days and $3.50 for weekends and holidays.

The main part of this golf facility, however, is the already popular Riviera Hotel. Less than one year under construction, the hotel although not yet completed (interior decoration, carpeting and painting) has already hosted the 1,500 delegate MAGIC-BAGIC convention.

DALE ANDREASON is the man who has been chosen to head the golf activities at the Riviera Golf Course.

THE HOTEL IS built like a giant wheel with the spokes, two stories high, containing more than 250 rooms. The hub is the lobby of the hotel, and off the lobby ramps lead to the poolside Mediterranean Room and Lido Lounge.

From the Mediterranean Room (with its blue and gold decor), a diner can look out across the vast expanse of emerald green fairways. The landscaping of the hotel — shrubs, flowers, palm trees and lawn — runs uninterrupted into the fairways.

THE GOLF COURSE and hotel are located at the corner of Indian Avenue and Vista Chino, in one of the fastest developing areas within the city limits. More than 500 new homes are constructed or being constructed within only a few blocks of the hotel-golf development.

The hotel owners have spared no expense in this development in America's foremost desert resort.

DON CRABTREE was appointed by the owners to design and build the 2,000 yard, 30-par Riviera Golf Course.

THE MEN BEHIND the development of the fabulous Riviera Hotel and Golf Club are Mark Schuman and Irvin Schuman, pictured above at the groundbreaking of the $1,000,000 hotel less than a year ago. Schuman also operates the Chi Chi in downtown Palm Springs.

Giants, Colts, 49ers Win

Detroit Upsets Rams 17-7

By EARL WRIGHT

United Press International
The New York Giants, Baltimore Colts and San Francisco Forty-Niners believe the best defense is a good defense and have the first-place credentials to prove it.

New York has taken some of its worst whippings in Pittsburgh and needed its powerful defensive unit to salvage a 21-16 victory over the Steelers Sunday at Forbes Field. The triumph, a costly one which may sideline all-league halfback Frank Gifford for two weeks, enabled the Giants (4-1) to hold their one-game lead in the National Football League's Eastern Division.

THE GREEN BAY Packers started Sunday's action tied with the Colts and Forty-Niners for the Western lead. The Packers (3-2) scored early in the third period at Baltimore to make the score 14-0. Then the Baltimore defense, combined with the passing of John Unitas, triggered three quick touchdowns and the Colts won easily, 38-21.

San Francisco, which has allowed only 65 points, kept pace with Baltimore (each 4-1) when Y. A. Tittle's 46-yard pass to R. C. Owens in the final 65 seconds produced a 20-17 victory over the Chicago Bears.

THE CLEVELAND Browns and Philadelphia Eagles (each 3-2) remained a game behind the Giants. Milt Plum threw four touchdown passes while sparking Cleveland to an easy, 4-7 victory over the Washington Redskins.

The Eagles, aided by alert defensive play and Norm Van Brocklin's passes, erased a 24-0 deficit in the second half and edged the Chicago Cardinals 14, 28-24.

THE DETROIT Lions, 11½ point underdogs, nullified Sunday's big upset by downing the Rams (2-3) at Los Angeles, 17-7. It was Detroit's first 1959 victory and left it tied with the Bears each 1-4 for last in the West.

Earl Morrall, playing quarterback for the Lions because Tobin Rote has a broken bone in his hand, directed the club to its first victory of the season. Ken Webb and Dan Lewis scored Detroit's touchdowns on short lunges and Jim Martin added a 37-yard field goal. Ollie Matson plunged a yard for the Rams, who lost the ball three times on interceptions before 74,288 fans.

Crisler, who was expected here early today, was not immediately available for comment on his reasons for the withdrawal.

HE MADE THE announcement to a University of Michigan official Saturday at Ann Arbor before leaving for Boston.

Crisler, long-time University of Michigan coach, said he telegraphed Texas oilman Lamar Hunt, who is forming the new league with a group of sports enthusiasts, that he would not take the job even if selected.

Huskies Ahead In Bowl Race

By HAL WOOD

United Press International

University of Washington (5-1) took the inside track in the race for the Rose Bowl today and coach Jim Owens couldn't have been happier.

But the wailing was long and loud from the losers' section over what might have been in West Coast college football ranks over the weekend.

STANFORD (1-5), leading 20-12 at the half, lost in the last quarter to Southern California, 30-28.

California, (1-5) leading 20-16 with four minutes to go, succumbed to the passing expertise of Don Kasso and Oregon State (2-4) 24-20.

Oregon, (5-1), in front 12-0 at the intermission, dropped a 13-12 thriller to the Huskies of Washington.

COLLEGE OF Pacific, (1-4) a 21-14 loser, was stopped on the Cincinnati one-foot line by the game-ending gun.

And so it went Saturday—with Stanford rising to its greatest heights of the season only to lose to unbeaten USC; Oregon getting knocked out of the undefeated ranks; and California dropping its fifth in a row the hard way. Stanford had been expected to be slaughtered by USC, and the odds-makers favored the Trojans by 18 points.

"THAT WAS ridiculous," said coach Don Clark of the winners. "That Stanford club, if it gets everything going for it, could beat anybody."

The Indians have won only one game all season—over lowly College of Pacific. But they were "up" for this one.

"I couldn't have been prouder of my boys if they had won," said coach Jack Curtice of the Indians after the game. "Isn't that Dick Norman something?"

Norman completed 16 out of 32 passes for 207 yards to run the Trojans wild. He was a hero in defeat.

BUT UP AT Portland, Bob Schloredt, the all-around star of the Washington Huskies, was a hero in victory. He scored one touchdown, set up another and intercepted an Oregon pass behind the goal line to save the day for the Huskies.

Mr. Marks left on Wednesday morning for a few days in Los Angeles.

FIRST STEP IN THE "Tilt-a-wall" game is to raise a 20-ton concrete slab from its original resting place on the floor of the new high school library. The slab was poured on the floor, which was used as a "work table" for the manufacture of pre-formed wall sections. Now a huge crane, its rear wheels lifted from the ground by the weight of its burden, raises the completed wall section for installation.

CAREFULLY RAISED AND turned, the 20-by-20-foot section is jockeyed into position for its final journey. Slabs for the wall sections were poured on top of each other, but a special emulsion was painted on each completed slab to prevent it from sticking to the next slab poured.

ON THE LAST LEG of its short journey, the slab is almost ready to be lowered into a trench next to its mate. Bolt-on braces will hold it in place until the next slab—carefully measured to fit its neighbors—is raised and tilted into place alongside. Total elapsed time for the mammoth wall-raising job—one and one-half days. (Desert Sun Photo)

Arthur Press Is President Of Contractors

Arthur Press has assumed his new duties as president of the Coachella Valley Contractors Association, succeeding Bill Brubaker.

Other new officers are Neal Bass, vice president; Manny Ryan, Howard Deason and Pappy Hubbs, directors for two years. Holdover directors are Art Brudvik and Robert Williams.

Press has been active in the construction business in Palm Springs for the past 10 years, and his most recent project was the new Police building.

He expressed optimism over the next year, commenting, "with the unlimited opportunities in the Desert area and the cooperation of the association members, this will be one of our finest years in building development and in service to the community and the people of Palm Springs."

L. A. Discusses Smog in Smog

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Charges against Detroit automakers and a demand for a special session of the state Legislature had local officials in an uproar today with the city bracing for its fifth smog attack of the year.

Los Angeles Basin suffered a severe smog attack Friday, and another was predicted for today.

The County Board of Supervisors Thursday heard supervisor Kenneth Hahn accuse the auto industry of dilatory tactics in perfecting an exhaust device to prevent air pollution.

Getting to Know You

WESTPORT, Conn. (UPI)—First-grader Lisa Leonard finally told her mother why she refused to talk to the other pupils during her first few days at school. She explained, "My uncle told me never to talk to strangers."

DESERT BRAEMAR

Irving Has Interesting, Unusual Hobby-Railroading

One of the most unusual and interesting hobbies—railroading—is the avocation of Allen Irving, Braemarite, who with his wife, is the owner of Apartment 61.

For some 30 years, Irving, a motion picture camera man, has had an intense and continuing interest in all phases of railroading, including the building of miniature engines, freight and passenger cars, even cabooses, to the point of winning first prize in the Los Angeles Hobby Show of 1946, an award for building a complete model train carried out to amazing detail.

HIS COLLECTION of models of engines, cars, track, signals, etc., runs into hundreds of pieces.

He has a complete library covering all phases of railroading, photo albums of old and new rolling stock with minute description dating back to the year 1879—information assembled for the Association of American Railroads.

HIS LARGE PATIO here contains actual pieces of equipment, such items as engine head lamps, marker lights, rear and illuminated drum signs designating the names of various trains, such as the Santa Fe Chief.

Illuminated box signs show the number of the engine as No. 5001, noted as amongst the last of the Santa Fe coal burners. Holding close to authentic detail, Mr. Allen has done a real job in carrying out his hobby.

Mrs. S. F. Magor, having recently returned from an extended trip to the Orient, is weekendening here prior to staying for the season. Her home is in Sherman Oaks.

Webb and Alice Dodds have opened their lovely north view deluxe for the season. The summer was spent with Alice's mother at Preston, Wash. Webb fished a good deal while in the Northwest. Their former home was in Turlock, Calif., where they had extensive agricultural holdings.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parks are jetting to Honolulu this week. Following a visit there they will fly to Tokyo and Hong Kong, returning in six weeks.

Floyd Prewitt and family spent last weekend at Braemar. All enjoyed the pool.

Ronnie McFarland enjoyed Saturday and Sunday at the pool apartment of Mrs. Gertrude Maurer, his mother. He is general auditor for the Magnin Co., covering all their branches.

The C. O. Bishops, Mrs. Percy Bishop and the Tom Hammers, all of Tacoma, Wash., were recent visitors of the Fred Wines.

COMMUNITY CHEST IS YOUR JOB

"The future of America rests with its youth," says J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In Palm Springs, that future can be assured through the work of such Community Chest-sponsored organizations as the Boys' Club.

A total of 380 Village boys—ages eight through 16—are current members of the Palm Springs Boys' Club. There they participate in athletics, crafts, social recreation and gain such specialized training as photography, model building and physical culture.

During the summer months an average daily attendance of 153 youths utilize Boys' Club facilities—all under highly-trained supervision—and the annual cost of this service is only $23 per boy. Against the regional average of almost $35 per boy per year, the Palm Springs figure represents a solid investment.

It's the way youth grows—the right way—and it is part of your Community Chest.
